The River's Story

Boats on the River

From all outward appearances one might not be impressed by the Monongahela River. It is not comparable to its other American relatives: the peaceful Potomac, the turbulent Colorado, or the beautiful Hudson River. Unlike these the Monongahela is a sluggish, muddy river, greenish-grey in color, tainted with impurities from the grime of industry. The total length of the Monongahela is about one hundred twenty-eight miles from its source near Fairmont, West Virginia, to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, where it joins the Allegheny to form the Ohio. Although the Monongahela is not the longest nor the most beautiful river, it has distinguished itself by being one of the busiest rivers. More tonnage passes through the Monongahela than through the world-famous Panama, Suez, or Kiel Canals. In fact its tonnage is second in the world, and has a recorded

View of Monongahela from the River Hill

total of four hundred twenty-four thousand, seven hundred thirty tons passed through Lock No. 3 in 1951.

The role played by the Monongahela in the history of the United States and of Pennsylvania is unsurpassed. The name itself shows its connection with the early history of Pennsylvania, for the word Monongahela is an old Indian word meaning "The River of the Falling Banks". At first trading posts sprang up along its banks to accommodate the great influx of settlers moving westward from Pittsburgh, which was at that time the gateway to the West. This extensive emigration had started before the Revolution, was interrupted by it, but resumed afterwards in greatly increased numbers. As the Monongahela was the main waterway, many prosperous boatyards were established on its banks. During the forties and fifties it is probable that there was not a navigable stream on the western waterway system which did not fill the cutwater of a Monongahela craft. With the coming of the steamboat, travel increased and flourishing industries sprang up. The hushed noise of running water was broken by the blowing of the foghorns by the riverboat captains, announcing the advent of a new era.

Today the river has become a part of the life of the people who live along its banks. Its importance still is increasing as it furnishes a waterway on which coal and raw materials can be transported to meet the demands of the iron and steel industries. But the familiar sight of this river will remain forever in the hearts of all the valley people, especially in those of Monongahela, the town which bears this great river's name.

The Mitchell Power Plant

"River! that in silence windest
Through the meadows, bright and free,
Til at length thy rest thou findest
In the bosom of the sea!"

In the bend of the Monongahela River at Courtney stands Mitchell Power Station, its bulk and towering height almost dwarfed by the overshadowing hills. At the river's edge it rises from a site chosen more than twenty-five years ago because of its nearness to water and to abundant coal reserves—the raw materials of electricity. There are numerous industries of this type along the banks of the Monongahela River, each contributing to the various needs of mill, mine, commerce, and home. One by one the industries rise, making the Monongahela River Valley a better and more interesting place to live—concrete evidence of faith in the future of a growing Western Pennsylvania.

The numerous activities at Monongahela High School offer many hours of pleasure to the student participant. Because of the wide variety of activities the students may join the group which interests them most, whether a club, music group, service group, sports or dramatic organization. The activities' program offers to the the student a practical means for extending his classroom learning and enables him to work with his fellow classmates and develop a sense of responsibility. Through the activities the student's interest in various fields is broadened and he becomes an active participant in school life.

Student Council

The Monongahela Senior High School Student Council is the student governing body of the school. It is composed of representatives elected by the student body. The objectives of the Student Council are: to provide an opportunity to study problems and recommend solutions that would improve the school life of all the students; to develop the qualities of leadership, humility, and responsibility; to develop in the student a growing appreciation of the democratic way of life by participating in democratic action in school; and to promote the spirit of co-operation between students, administration, and faculty, and good fellowship throughout the school. The Student Council is comprised of four divisions: the officers, the executive board, the senate, and the representatives.

The Student Council working under the guidance of its sponsor, Mr. La Frankie, has benefited the school in many ways. This year in addition to the annual Variety Show and Hay Seed Hoe Down, the Student Council introduced two new projects: a movie program during the lunch period, and a plan to furnish milk for the students who carry their lunches. Suggestion boxes have been placed in the home rooms by the Student Council. The students at M.H.S. owe much to the student council for providing the school many conveniences and privileges.

The Hi-Y is based on a platform which consists of clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living. The purposes of this platform are to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the school and the community. Club meetings are spent in discussion of topics related to their aims. One of their services to the high school is the trimming of the Christmas tree in the school hall. An annual activity is a trip to go swimming at the Y.M.C.A. in Washington, Pennsylvania.

The projector committee shows educational movies to the school in various classrooms. Committee members are in charge of the Friday noon movie sponsored by the Student Council. Approximately one movie every other day is shown. The committee is made up of volunteers. The applicants must maintain a "c" average. At the end of the year the chairman trains the new members in a study hall or after school. The boys begin their work the next school term.

The boys serving on hall patrol are appointed by the high school principal early in the fall. Their duties include keeping pupils from loitering in the hallways during the A, B, and C lunch periods, maintaining order during the change of classes and during lunch periods, prohibiting students from using specific doors during lunch periods, and checking on students' lunch passes. These boys are to be commended for their services to the school.

VOCAL MUSIC

The vocal music department is increasing in the size and number of groups. Members of these talented organizations prepare programs for school and community. A variety of musical selections is presented, including popular tunes, spirituals, and semi-classical pieces. The highlight of the year is the annual Spring Choral Concert which includes artistic decorations of the stage and preparation of routines that end in a colorful and spectacular scene.

GIRLS' TRIO
THE THREE CHEERS

Roberta Lauder, Ruth Lauder, Nancy Keenan

The Band Club has almost the same purpose as the Music Club except that it deals with instrumental music. Members study various types of instruments and their part in the production of music.

The Three Cheers is a new group composed of three cheerleaders who sing many popular selections. They perform for both school and community.

M.H.S. Varsity

The Monongahela High School Varsity Marching Band began practice early in August under the direction of the new band director, Mr. Paul McCandless. At the opening of the football season students were ready to appear before the public in their new uniforms with new music, marches, and drills.

The half-time performances at the football games were a credit to the school, the musicians and the director, as well as to the majorettes who had prepared some outstanding footwork and twirling. Precision marching, drills, and tricky entrance routines were combined with special arrangements of show tunes for some of the performances, especially those featuring the Elvis Presley show and My Fair Lady.

Marching Band

The group participated in various local and district parades, including the Halloween Parade, the Veterans' Day Parade, and the Memorial Day Parade. Having entered competition in the Veterans' Day Parade at Monessen, the band received the award "Best High School Band."

A number of the band members were selected to participate in the Washington County Band, three were honored by appointments to District Band, and one to P.M.E.A., all-state band.

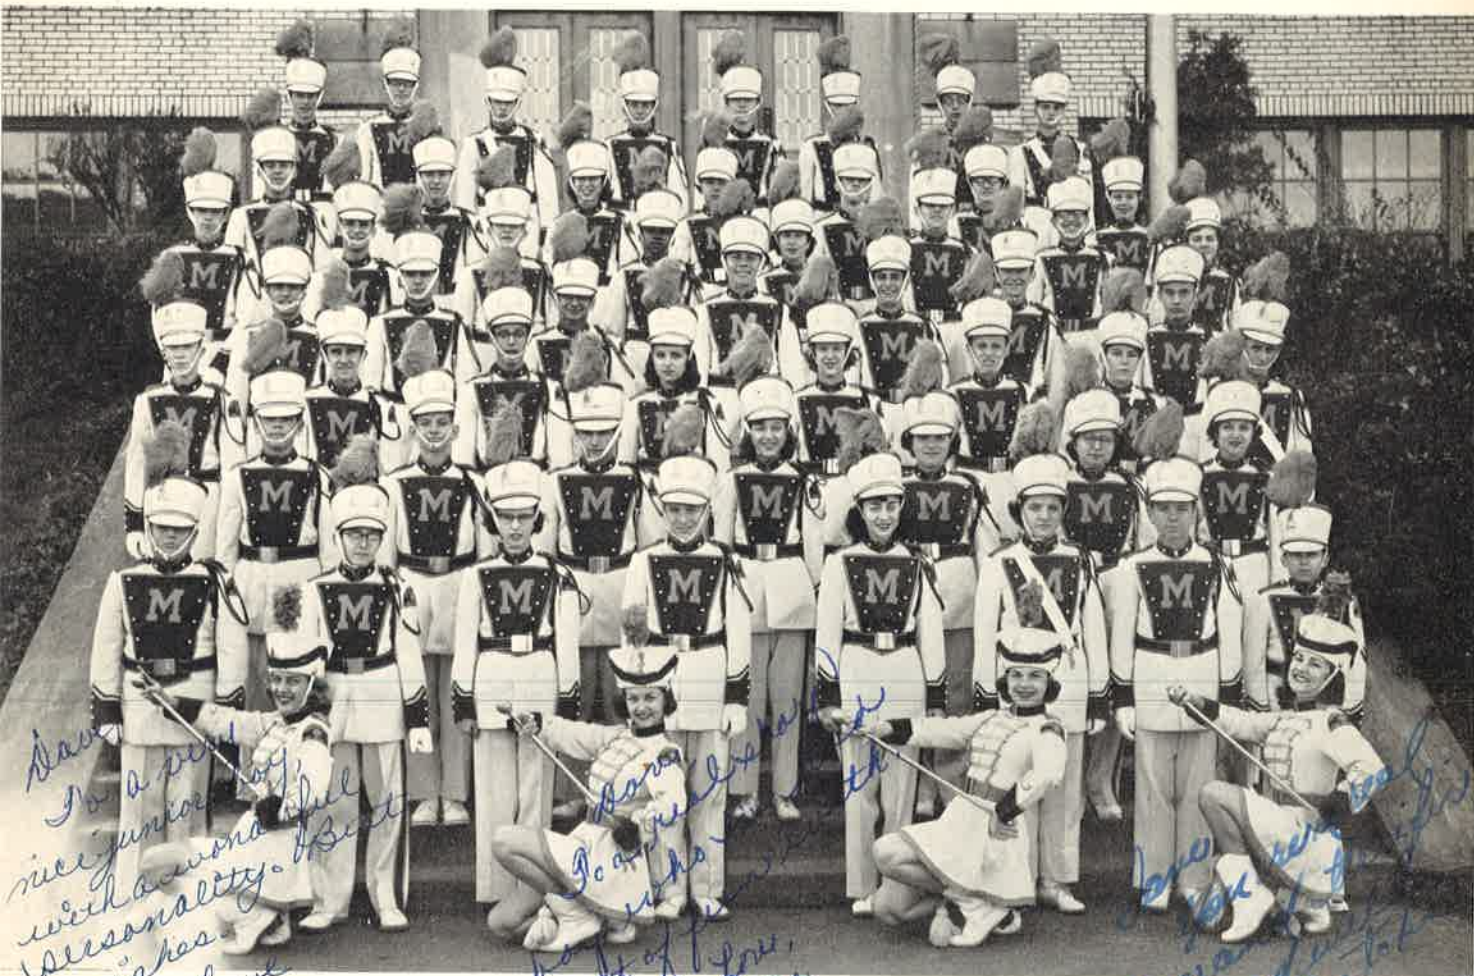

Two dance bands have recently been organized by members of the Varsity Band. Their purpose is to be on call for public appearances.

The annual spring band concert featured various types of music which were enjoyed by young and old alike. Senior members of the band were honored at this concert.

The band concluded a very successful year by furnishing music for the Commencement exercise.

Senior Play

The senior class of 1957 presented January Thaw, a three-act comedy by William Ross, on the evenings of March 21 and 22. The setting of the play was the living room of a Connecticut farmhouse. The antiquated house was purchased by the Gage family from the water company with the stipulation that the former owners might live in the house for the remainder of their lives.

The action began when the former owners, Abigail and Mathilda Rockwood and Mathilda's son Matt, return to live in the house. The lives of the two different families in the same house create a delightful form of contrast throughout the play, which combined with excellent characterizations, rewarded everyone who attended.

Scenery and settings were constructed under the able direction of Miss Boyland, director, and the stage crew.

Class Play

"ONCE THERE WAS A PRINCESS"

"Once There Was A Princess", the annual class play, was presented on November 15, in the Monongahela High School auditorium.

The play, a comedy in two acts and set in the Mid-Victorian period with authentic costumes, set, and props, was directed by Miss Madaline Boyland.

The play told the story of a small town girl's return after the death of her husband, an Italian prince who had squandered her fortune. After arriving in her hometown and being mistaken for a sewing woman, the princess learned that the entire household had been expecting a regally-mannered woman. Heartbroken because she had not been recognized, she left town and returned, dressed as the princess the townspeople had expected.

The play ended happily as the princess and her childhood sweetheart were reunited.

The Flame is an annual yearbook published by representatives of the senior class. Staff members are appointed in the spring of the junior year. Meetings begin immediately and extend into the summer vacation until the theme is selected and the general plan of the book completed.

With members of the newspaper staff the new members of the yearbook staff make up the journalism class, which is conducted as a workshop for the planning and publication of the Flame and the Red and White Review.

The Red and White Review, Monongahela High School newspaper, is published monthly by members of the journalism class. The staff endeavors to record and support all worthy student activities and to maintain high standards of journalistic work.

Through their work on the paper the student journalists have developed a more concise form of writing and greater personal responsibility as well as becoming familiar with problems of newspaper production and circulation.

Most of the members of the journalism class belong to Quill and Scroll, international honor society for student journalists.

Pleasure boats at the Fourth Street Dock

"Four long years of mingled feeling,
Half in rest and half in strife,
I have seen thy waters stealing
Onward, like the stream of life."

Before the coming of the white man, Indian youth swam, fished, and raced their canoes in the Monongahela River. The pioneer white man had little time to enjoy water sports, but used the river for the serious purpose of transportation. In recent years there has been a strong trend toward water recreation. Most of the river towns have at least one boat club and many types of pleasure craft are on the river. Canoeing, swimming, and waterskiing are becoming increasingly popular.

Like the river, high school provides opportunities for participating in recreational activities. Football, basketball, soccer, and baseball offer year-round activities for boys, while volleyball, basketball, and mushball offer recreation for the girls. These activities are parts of the school program which, while secondary to the prime purpose of educating youth, provide enjoyment as well as opportunities to demonstrate sportsmanship. They also teach lessons of their own in the cooperation necessary for team play and encourage physical conditioning.

Football

The Monongahela High School football team, coached by Mr. Cree, compiled a record of 2 victories and 7 defeats during the 1956 season.

The first victory was registered over a strong Snowden Township team in the opening game of the season. Following four consecutive defeats, the Wildcats then came back to beat Brownsville 19-6 in a Big-Six Conference game which electrified local fans. Although they dropped their remaining three games, the Red and White gridders fought all the way.

The 1956 team had to be almost completely rebuilt with only three regulars back from the 1955 squad. Replacements for the graduating gridders from last year's junior varsity and junior high teams gave a good account of themselves. Numerous injuries handicapped the team throughout the year.

Evidence of the fact that the Wildcats impressed their opponents by their hard play can be found in the fact that five Monongahela players were chosen for the Big-Six teams. Fred Cox, outstanding fullback, was unanimously named to the first team of the 1956 All Big-Six Conference. Chuck Hillman, dependable halfback, was named to a second team berth with Tony Bove, Boyd Skaine, and Jim Voelker receiving honorable mention.

The 1956-57 Wildcat basketball team, coached by Mr. Cree, ended the season with a record of 4 wins and 16 losses.

No championship team, however, could have practiced more or played harder. Three of the losses were by only a few points. All three of these games were closely contested and were decided in the last few seconds.

The Red and White started the season with three lettermen from last year with junior high and junior varsity players moving up to complete the rest of the squad.

Two of the veterans, Dee Galiffa and Ed Kikla, finished fifth and seventh in the sectional scoring race. Rich Sacane, the third veteran, was handicapped by an ankle injury early in the season, but returned to play his usual consistent game.

Coach Cree made use of a number of underclassmen to give them the experience to provide a nucleus for next year's team.

Soccer

Monongahela High School's soccer team covered itself with glory as the Wildcat booters copped the first W.P.I.A.L. crown in M.H.S. sports history. The closest a Wildcat team has come to a W.P.I.A.L. crown was the 1948 football team which dropped the championship clash to New Castle. Several times Wildcat baseball teams have advanced to the semi-finals of title play but never quite made it "all the way." The 1956 soccer record marked one of the few times a Wildcat team has gone through a season unbeaten, winning a total of eight games, six in the regular season and two in title play. Jim Thomas, Bob Behanna, Barry Dunham, Joe Kevich, Dick Parsons, John Matey, Tom Parsons, Bob Damico, Simon Pestich, all lettermen, received credit for their brilliant playing in copping the W.P.I.A.L. title. The boys readied themselves for the rugged season by practicing in all kinds of weather. Wind, rain, snow, or sunshine, one could always look out onto the field and see the team practicing. Credit also goes to Coach Frank Lignelli, who started three years ago with an inexperienced team and helped develop the boys into one of the most outstanding soccer squads in league competition. Coach Lignelli was presented with a beautiful plaque trophy symbolic of the title. The championship trophy was then presented to Principal John Conte, and Simon Pestich, representing the team, also presented the game ball to Mr. Conte. It was a wonderful victory for a wonderful group of boys who played their hearts out.

Six lettermen Jack Evans, Pete Legeza, Fred Cox, Paul Jurovcik, Ron Chislaghi, Ron, Bertolina, and Frank DeRos, are returning this season to compete again for the championship title.

The Wildcats' baseball team had a fairly successful season considering their many handicaps. Bad weather conditions prevented the team from having all the scheduled practices and the needed experience. Lack of a strong pitching staff was the greatest drawback for the team. Because of an injury, Eddie Kikla was unable to pitch most of the season, and the pitching responsibility then fell upon Jack Evans. Jack became the ace of Mr. Natali's pitching staff, and he recorded all 5 of the locals' wins.

The four losses of the team were all one-run losses, leaving a total of four games lost by four runs only. The team finished the season with a record, showing five wins and four defeats. A large number of the team will return to practice this spring for what is hoped will be the best year thus far.

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

The Monongahela High School girls' volleyball team, a member of the Monongahela Valley Volleyball League, was organized in 1953 at the annual track and field meet. Many of the girls who are members of this year's graduating class have played on the team for three years. The girls have received no public recognition or awards although they have been runners-up and champions in tournament play.

The 1956-57 season included several games with the women teachers of Monongahela High and also with the girls' teams from Donora, Charleroi, and California. The M. H. S. girls also have the experience of playing on an almost professional level when they competed with the women's team of the Monongahela Turners.

Cheerleaders

The varsity basketball and football teams would not have been complete without the enthusiasm and rousing cheers of the M. H. S. cheerleaders.

Long hours of practice during the summer and after school under the guidance of Miss Brewer enabled the cheerleaders to present colorful skits such as "A World of Cheering" and "Gabriel's Angels". The last assembly began in humorous manner, but ended with a tribute to all seniors including a special tribute to the senior cheerleaders.

At the Clairton football game the cheerleaders took part in the half-time show by doing a dance routine to the tune of the Mexican Hat Dance played by the M. H. S. Band.

A huge bonfire was held by the cheerleaders before the Donora game. Trucks loaded with boxes and wood were heaped in one immense pile on the center of the mounds. Speeches and cheers along with music from the band made the bonfire a great success. Following the bonfire a parade was formed which took everyone to the Italian Hall where they enjoyed dancing for the remainder of the evening.

The last and most exciting football game was the one against Charleroi. During the week the cheerleaders planted signs made by Mr. Barbero through the school halls, hoping to arouse the enthusiasm of everyone. An outdoor pep assembly was held for the benefit of the players as they practiced.

During the spring, the cheerleaders attended a cheerleading clinic in Washington, Pa., where they learned new songs and chants which helped them tremendously in preparing for the '56-'57 season.

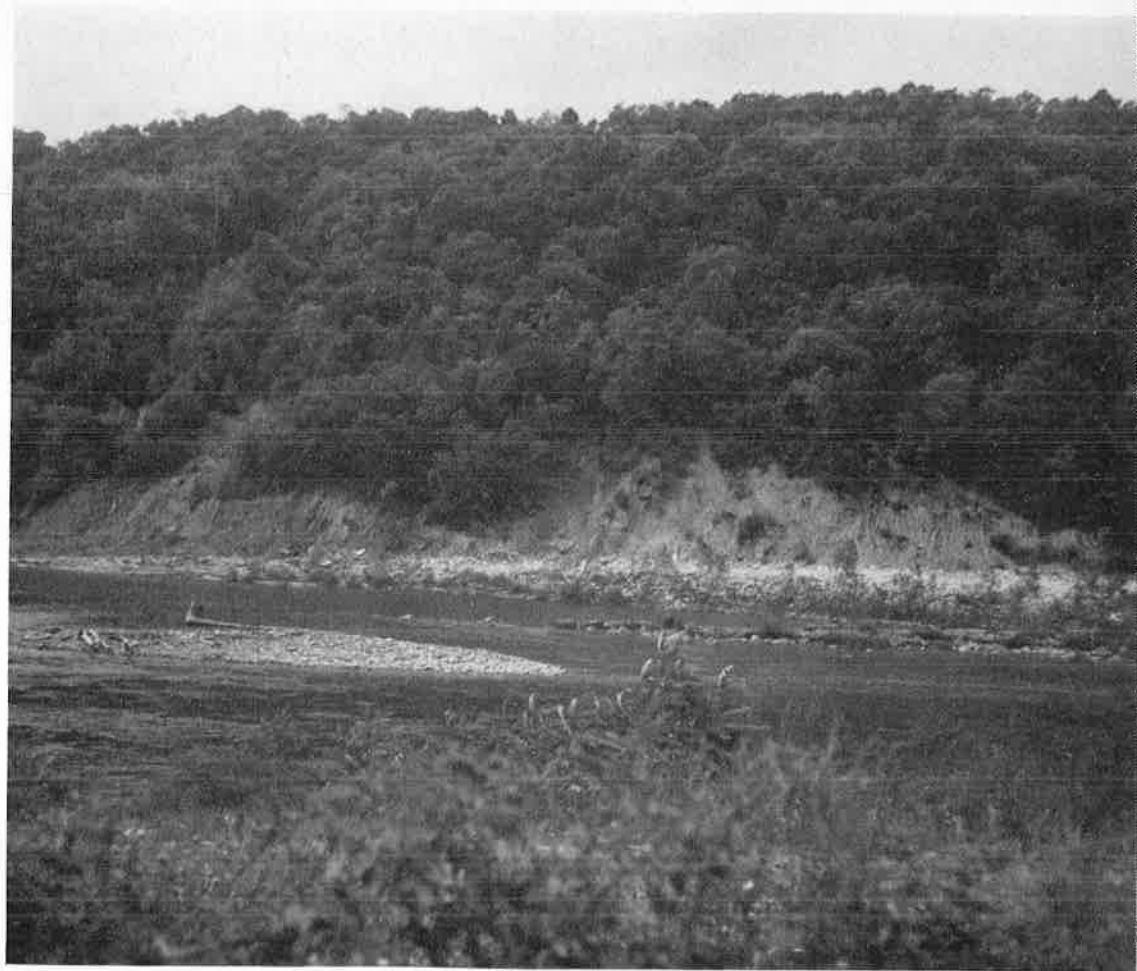

This cheerleading squad has provided delightful memories to the sports enthusiasts of M. H. S.

SOPHOMORES

The Beginning of the Monongahela River

"Thou hast taught me, Silent River!
Many a lesson, deep and long;
Thou hast been a generous giver;
I can give thee but a song."

A well developed river has as many sources as a tree has branches, all of which reach the trunk that empties into the sea. A river usually has its beginning far up in the mountains or the hills. The water is furnished by rain, snow, and springs. As the river flows on, other streams join it, and it continues to increase in size.

The Monongahela River is formed by the confluence of the West Fork and the Tygart Rivers south of Fairmont, West Virginia. It flows north into southwestern Pennsylvania and on to Pittsburgh where it joins the Allegheny to form the Ohio River.

The source of a river is comparable to the sophomores in high school, who are just beginning the course they will follow for the ensuing three years. Their future success will depend largely on the foundation which they lay at this time. The activities in which they participate and the subjects they select will have an influence upon them throughout their lives. For the sophomores this is the beginning of the many decisions they must make in their life and their success, like that of the river, depends largely upon a good beginning.

JUNIORS

The River Bend at California

"Oft in sadness and in illness,
I have watched thy current glide;
Til the beauty of its stillness
Overflowed me, like a tide."

When a stream begins to flow, channeling and deepening of the river occur. If no obstruction hinders the flow of the water, it will go on enlarging the channel by widening and deepening. After years of erosion on a small scale, the running water slowly carries away sediment from the banks of the river which gradually broadens out to become a more expansive stream. The Monongahela, thus formed, reaches its greatest breadth near California, Pennsylvania.

When students reach the second year of their high school education, they begin to participate in more activities and become interested in more subjects. The scope of the curriculum widens and specialization begins. The juniors make their choices from subjects which were not available in the sophomore year. They may increase their talents and interests and develop skills for their life work through the expanded curriculum and extra-curricular activities.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Seated: Sam Marra, president; Mr. Ermlick, sponsor;
Charlene Pezzoni, vice-president
Standing: Patricia Boal, secretary; Linda Gayhart, treasurer

The junior year can be called the half-way mark in high school education. When students reach their junior year, they take on added responsibilities and begin to think more seriously about their school work.

The members of the junior class are also very active in clubs and other school organizations. They are well represented in the various productions of the dramatics and music departments as well as in athletics. One of the very active junior clubs, the Sigma Rho Delta, is a member of the Pennsylvania Federation of Junior Historians, a state-wide organization. For four consecutive years members of the Sigma Rho Delta have held offices in the state organization.

One of the most important social responsibilities of the junior class is the Junior-Senior Prom, the most colorful dance of the school year. The success of this event depends upon the junior class, whose members do all the work from planning the theme to completing the last details of decorating. To raise funds for the prom the junior class sponsors several other dances throughout the year.

Anticipating their senior year and graduation, the juniors now think more seriously on such subjects as school work, college, and the choice of a life's work.

The Monongahela and Allegheny Rivers Form the Ohio River at Pittsburgh

And in better hours and brighter,
When I saw thy waters gleam,
I have felt my heart beat lighter,
And leap onward with thy stream."

The picturesque Ohio River is formed by the junction of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers at Pittsburgh. Pittsburgh stands at the gateway of one of the greatest river systems in the world and through its port passes river tonnage exceeding the peacetime records of the Panama Canal. Today Pittsburgh is one of the world's greatest business and industrial centers. The water transportation system and the city's fine location give easy access to great fields of bituminous coal which have made Pittsburgh the greatest iron and steel producing center the world has ever known. Side by side with the development of river commerce and manufacturing has arisen a great cultural movement which has resulted in universities and colleges, institutes of technology and art, and a symphony orchestra that are recognized all over the world.

The seniors, having completed twelve years of public school education and bearing influences of church and home that have developed qualities of character and personality, are now ready to enter into the broader activities of life. They are leaving the smaller world of school to choose the courses they will pursue through life. They are now able to accept responsibility and make decisions for themselves. Having reached the end of their high school years, the seniors are anxious to become part of a larger outside world, but the happy memories of their high school days will remain with them always.

Lock Three

"Where yon shadowy woodlands hide thee,
And thy waters dissappear,
Friends I love have dwelt beside thee,
And have made thy margin dear."

ADMINISTRATION

Boatbuilding on the Monongahela started with the craft built by the French garrison at Fort Duquesne. Shipbuilding yards grew rapidly as settlements were made on the shores of the Monongahela. River travel increased greatly, making it necessary for improvements in navigation to be made. The chief means of improvement was through a system of locks. In 1879 the federal government became interested and took an active part in this project. The function of the locks is to raise and lower the water levels to permit vessels to travel through unnavigable sections of the river. This system of locks, a total of approximately 15, is largely responsible for making the Monongahela River the outstanding carrier of tonnage of all American rivers.

The administration and faculty of Monongahela High School play an important role in each student's high school education. It is their duty to guide the student through his studies and to assist him to solve problems or difficulties which may arise. Any student desiring counsel finds the members of the faculty and administration always willing to help. The knowledge and training of the teachers benefit each student in giving him an opportunity to obtain an education which will be vitally important on his journey through life.

View of Monongahela Business Section at Second Street

"'Tis for this, thou Silent River!
That my spirit leans to thee;
Thou hast been a generous giver,
Take this idle song from me."

To The Silent River

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

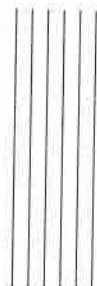

Since early colonial days colonization and industry followed the courses of river. The Monongahela River has in large part been responsible for the settlement and growth of this section of Pennsylvania. Increasing traffic along the river attracted business and industrial establishments to its banks. Today the Monongahela River is just as important as it was in the early history of the valley. Steel mills, coal mines, power plants, railroads, and numerous smaller industries have encouraged the settlement and activities of the valley towns.

In recognition of the fact that Monongahela business men have contributed greatly to the expansion and prosperity of the community, the Flame Staff directs the attention of its readers to the following pages of advertising.
